To Whom It May Concern:

This is a letter of recommendation for Dr. Linnda Durré. Dr. Durré served as my clients' expert witness in a family dispute between my clients, a mother and her youngest son, against the mother's oldest son. Dr. Durré was extremely responsive and was always available when needed. She worked on the matter during the weekend and at night to make sure the job was done correctly. Dr. Durré is a detailed oriented person and tries to uncover all the facts that are helpful to the case.

Dr. Durré evaluated the mother to determine whether she suffered from any psychological disorders which would permit her oldest son to exercise undue influence over her. Dr. Durré has an excellent bedside manner and took the necessary time to speak with not only my clients, but all other individuals who could assist her in making her diagnosis. My clients enjoyed speaking with her and even had her stay for dinner during her initial visit. I think Dr. Durré takes her work very seriously and puts in the time needed to do the job right.

The report prepared by Dr. Durré was extremely detailed and she left nothing out. She worked with me and my clients to make sure the report was as comprehensive as we needed it for trial. At trial she testified excellently and made a very good impression on the stand. She was assertive and confident during cross examination making her testimony that much more effective.

I recommend Dr. Durré as an expert witness.

Sincerely,

Brian D. Gottlieb

To Whom It May Concern:

This is a recommendation letter for Linnda Durre, who has her Ph.D. in psychology and who has been a case consultant and report writer and potential expert witness for our firm's clients over the last year and a half on two personal injury cases.

Dr. Durre is prepared, assertive, gives excellent suggestions, understands the legal system, and has solid credentials. She aided our firm's clients as an expert witness on a couple of personal injury matters. I find her to be a person who is deeply concerned about our firm's clients and always willing to go the extra mile. For example, her willingness to visit clients at their homes is convenient particularly when the client cannot travel for face-to-face consultations.

Dr. Durré's comprehensive, detailed reports were instrumental in our advocacy on behalf of our clients. Dr. Durre is thorough, her diagnoses are inclusive, and her recommendations are comprehensive.

I recommend Dr. Linnda Durre as a case consultant, expert witness, and report writer.

Very Truly Yours,

To Whom It May Concern:

This is a recommendation letter for Linnda Durre', who has her Ph.D. in psychology and who has been a case consultant and report writer for me on a very difficult DUI case over the past three (3) months. She is an expert witness, case consultant, has done jury selection work, and is a skilled interviewer because of her clinical background and experience as a psychotherapist in public settings as well as her private practice. Her 25 page CV is very impressive. She is a member of Mensa and has been a contestant on Jeopardy. She is sharp, sees the details as well as the large picture, and can strategize very well.

Dr. Linnda Durre' is always prepared, assertive, gives excellent suggestions, a strategist, understands the legal system, and has impeccable credentials, having served as an expert witness for many years, with specialties in the following areas: family law, employment law, criminal law, and personal injury law.

She has been qualified in six states: Florida, California, Connecticut, Georgia, Arkansas, and the state of Washington. She will give a deposition in a federal age discrimination case in Alabama at the end of March 2020, which will bring her total to seven states, where which she has been qualified as an expert.

Dr. Durre' has done incapacity evaluations for Orange County (Florida) courts. She has written parenting plans and done social investigations for Family Court in Orange County. Her scope is as broad as is her expertise. She was chosen from 200 applicants in a national search and vetted by the Mayo Clinic an America's Health Network to host "Ask the Family Therapist. Her media experience – TV, radio, the Internet, print – newspapers, magazines, websites, blogs columns, and publications, is 111 pages.

I find her to be a person who is deeply concerned with justice, fairness, people's rights, protecting society, and getting the client the psychological help that they may desperately need, such as alcohol and drug rehabilitation in a residential facility, attending 12 Step Groups, such as AA - Alcoholics Anonymous- as well as for Cocaine, Overeaters, Sex and Love Addicts, Shoppers, Gamblers, etc.

Dr. Durre' goes the extra mile in all she does. She drove down to my office in Kissimmee, Florida, to consult with me twice, as well as to my other office in Inverness, Florida, to consult with the client, and later the same day with me and the client. She is incisive in her questioning, leaves no stone unturned, and she has a delightful sense of humor that can turn a depressing situation into a philosophical discussion with spiritual dimensions in an instant, asking, "What does this client need to learn from their legal difficulties? How can we empower them to stay out of trouble? What do they need from us?"

She is an excellent writer of court reports, which are complete, thorough, detailed, and to the point. She can read people very well and is perceptive, intuitive, aware, and well trained.

I highly recommend Dr. Linnda Durre' as a case consultant, expert witness, psychotherapist, and report writer. I have seen her in action, sitting in the consultation when she wanted the client to hear both of us describe his legal and psychological choices in his case. She is confrontive when necessary, direct, courageous, and fair, all done with tact, care, and for the well-being of both the client and society.

Yours truly,

Re: Dr. Linnda Durre' - Expert witness

To Whom It May Concern:

I have been in private practice as a civil rights attorney for 45 years. I am a Princeton alum, a graduate of Columbia Law School in New York City, and the author of five books. I have been given five awards by the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, others by the NAACP. My wife Leslie and I are co-founders of the Scott and Zelda Fitzgerald Museum in Montgomery, Alabama.

I have had the pleasure of working with expert witness Dr. Linnda Durre' on five cases involving age and/or race discrimination in Alabama. Her reports were instrumental in getting the defendants to the settlement table after much stonewalling and delays.

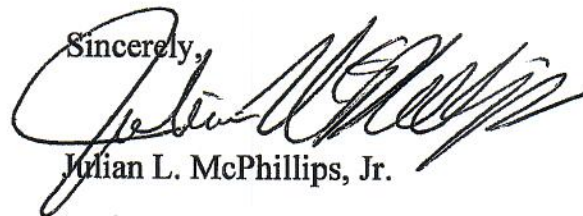

I find Dr. Durre's grasp of the issues to be comprehensive and sharp, her report writing detailed and inclusive; her opinions in depositions strong, and she is fearless. Her ability to communicate with clients is warm, compassionate, and direct. She has a positive attitude, and has been an inspiration to our shared clients.

Even though some of my clients are quite challenging, she understands their plight, and avoids letting the differences affect her as an expert on a case.

If there are any points of disagreement, Dr. Durre' presents her beliefs cheerfully, and clearly, and she makes her points respectfully and well. She is open-minded and flexible to incorporate other views into her work and reports. She can identify creative and alternative strategies, and her clever suggestions have been exceedingly helpful to my cases and clients.

I highly recommend her as an expert witness.

Sincerely,

Julian L. McPhillips, Jr.
