

DR. JAMES F. PASTOR, PH.D., J.D., CPP

PROFILE

Dr. Pastor brings unparalleled experience in policing, public safety, and security, starting as a tactical officer in Gang Crime Enforcement for the Chicago Police Department, one of the most active policing units in the country.

As a security expert, author, attorney, and former professor, Dr. Pastor merges security methods, academic theories, and legal principles; providing an exceptional level of depth and breathe.

As an attorney, he served and advocated for police unions, and for both security guard and electronic security firms, possessing broad experience in the security industry and public safety.

Augmented with a doctorate in Public Policy Analysis, he understands that policies create incentives and drive human behavior. As these directly impact public safety and crime, few possess his experience, his unique insight and his "security sense."
